THE MONKEY AND THE MASSES
MR. RYAN, ALL COPPER MEN
HARK, HARK, THE LAWYERS
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WHAT IS THE AVERAGE level of civilization among human beings? When the airship R-100 reached England, returning across the ocean, only a gathering of 50 friends and relatives of passengers and crew, plus a few stragglers, welcomed the dirigible's return. English attention was concentrated on a cricket test match.

IN THE MONKEY HOUSE, with peanuts on the floor, no monkey would notice the most important arrival, not even Darwin himself. The distance separating the masses from the monkeys is not as great as some among the masses imagine.

Last week copper fell to its lowest price in 20 years. This suggestion is offered to copper producers: Offer copper, in thin sheets of carious thicknesses, suitable for flashing and other building and repairing purposes. Sell it to farmers, householders and others at the lowest profitable price and unload your surplus.

GET COOPERATION from mail order houses and hardware stores and advertise a definite price, 15 cents a pound, if possible; tell how many there are in a pound of thin copper sheeting and why it is better than tin or galvanized iron.

The copper surplus could be disposed of if copper men would unite in a really intelligent, persistent advertising campaign.

This column would buy a few thousand pounds of copper sheeting properly priced, to start the sale, and make money on it.

THE AMERICAN BAR association, to meet 3,000 strong in Chicago this week, will hear from its committee on American citizenship that the farm act, devised to aid farmers, is "the first step to a socialistic government." Is it not a terrible menace to our institutions, our beloved constitution and our government by corporations, directed by lawyers?

LAWYERS DISCOVER the act is not meant "to provide for the general welfare." It is intended to help the farmers.

There are only 20,000,000 of them, so what do they amount to?

When, not long ago, the national government loaned tens of millions to one Brooklyn street car concern, threatened with bankruptcy, that helped only a handful of stockholders and some more or less honest promoters of watered stock, and not a bar association committee peeped or muttered.

THAT BROOKLYN CONCERN, about to sell out to the city of New York, which originally paid for the building of its subways, protests that two hundred and odd millions, offered by the city, is shamefully inadequate.

Nothing like that ever happened to farmers.

THREE AMERICAN SENATORS visiting Russia were invited to inspect Russia's royal jewels, collected through centuries by the czars, now owned by the soviet, worth $250,000,000.

No other nations possess such jewels. The senators and others saw the jewels, lying on the tables, not guarded by any armed men.

Here, our Federal Reserve urges all employers to pay by check, because cash payrolls are never safe. We might learn something about honesty from the "base Bolsheviks."

PROPELLOR LOSS DAMAGES CRAFT

American Steamer Effects Rescue Of 317 At Sea; All Are Safe

(By The Associated Press)

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 18.—Passengers and crew of the British steamer, Tahiti, totaling 317 persons, abandoned ship before dawn today, and were taken safely aboard the American steamer, Ventura which rushed from many miles away to answer the Tahiti's distress signals.

The Tahiti, filling rapidly with water from a leak where one of the propellers was torn away, did not remain afloat long. Passengers aboard the vessel upon his departure from Wellington, numbered 175, crew and officers 142.

Passengers were disembarked from the vessel first. Five boats being launched safely with them despite a heavy swell and an approaching storm and the crew and officers were taken off later.

The Penybryn, Norwegian freighter bound for Auckland from Cuba, stood by to be of any possible aid in the disembarking. The Tahiti was bound from Sydney and Wellington for San Francisco.

Early reports from the Tahiti said that both passengers and crew took to boats before arrival of the Penybryn or Ventura, but later radio messages from the ship said an order to this effect had been countermanded. Wireless communication was difficult because of static accompanying a brewing storm, of which the Tahiti's captain, Tolen, was fearful.

The Tahiti lost its starboard propeller, sprang a leak about 460 miles east of Rarotonga, Cook islands and drifted about 60 miles with a strong current before being reached by rescue vessels.

TWO ARRESTED DURING RAIDS

Salem Police Active In Liquor Law Cases; Visit 4 Homes

Two alleged liquor law violators were arrested as a result of four raids conducted on Salem residences suspected of bootlegging activities by police here Saturday night.

Joe Johns, East Pershing avenue, and Leroy Arly, Prospect street were arrested during the raids, conducted by Police Chief T. W. Thompson, and Patrolmen Ralph Stoffer and Edward Piller about 8:30 p. m. Saturday. No arrests were made in searches made of two other places.

The raiding officers were forced to break into one house, located in the rear of South Broadway when they were refused admittance. A door was beaten down but no liquor was found. Stoffer, who is acting police chief during Thompson's absence for the next two weeks, reported today.

Two pints of liquor were found in a secret compartment in a table at the place allegedly operated as a bootlegging establishment by Johns. Stoffer stated, A quantity of beer and mash were found at Earley's house.

Johns was released on bond by Mayor J. M. Davidson this morning, pleading not guilty to a charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors.

Early will be arraigned before Davidson this afternoon. A fourth place was searched but no liquor was found in the place, Stoffer stated.

ELECTRIC CO. TO MOVE LOCATION

Remodeling Of Building On East State Street Now Taking Place

The Ohio Edison company is pushing forward the remodeling of the new store and office quarters at 553 East State street, which the company will occupy shortly after the middle of September.

The electric service company has taken a long term lease on the two-story brick structure formerly occupied by the Sabin Furniture company at this address and is having it completely remodelled for its occupancy.

A new front is being constructed and the interior of the first floor is being completely remodelled and redecorated.

The building occupied a lot with a 40-foot frontage on East State street and has a depth of 125 feet. The front part of the first floor will be occupied by the company's electric store and display room, approximately 1500 square feet of display space being provided.

This will be fitted with display cases and wall cases. Illumination will be a feature of the store.

Two large display windows will be a feature.

To the rear of the store space will be the cashier's booths, and the new business application department. A corridor will lead past them to the offices of District Manager T. E. Miller and other offices of the various divisions having to do with electric light and power service, so that it will be most convenient of access to the public.

Work of remodeling will be completed about September 15 and Ohio Edison plans to move from its present store and offices at 603 East State street immediately thereafter.

THREE ACCUSED OF ATTEMPT TO KILL GOVERNOR

DENY CHARGES AS BEING RIDICULOUS

Arrests Follow Two-Week Investigation By County Sheriff

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Aug. 18.—Three men in jail here today faced charges of "conspiracy to procure the assassination" of Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida.

Sheriff W. B. Cahoon, who said he had broken up a plot against the governor after nearly two weeks of investigation, announced formal charges would be filed.

Those held are: Fred O. Eberhardt, publisher of the Florida State News at Tallahassee, which has waged an editorial attack upon Carlton since his inauguration.

Frank Ralls, who campaigned for Carlton in Duval county in 1928, and Henry Halsema, Jacksonville real estate operator, who also is under arrest on a liquor charge.

All were arrested Saturday night but no announcement was made by authorities until last night. Sheriff Cahoon said he would not divulge details of the case until the trial. Reports were the matter had been closed before the department of justice attorneys quoted the three men as saying they were ignorant of the alleged plot.

William A. Hallows, Jr., attorney for Halsema, said he would seek the latter's release on bond. Lon Farris, representing Eberhardt and Ralls, said he wanted to see the warrant first.

Farris quoted Eberhardt and Ralls as saying "there's nothing to it." Eberhardt referred the case as a "gigantic hallucination on the part of some one."

Newspapermen have been denied permission to interview the prisoners.

Gov. Carlton in Pensacola said: "This has not come as a complete surprise to me. I have known the investigation has been under way for several days."

Eberhardt, former paving contractor and automobile race car driver last winter assailed alleged gambling at Florida race tracks, threatening to close by injunction those which used a system of wagering he declared violated state laws.

Shortly after his campaign began Keeney park, near here, closed. Eberhardt, representing the operators, said the closing was due to the activities of "reformers."

Later Keeney park renamed St. John's park held a brief spring meeting under the certificate system.

Hialeah track near Miami held a winter meeting using the envelope system of wagering.

Another man, with Montgomery, was ordered out of the city by Hiddleston.

Montgomery furnished $20.00 bond and was released for trial before Davidson tonight.

Hanoverton Christian Church Observes 100th Anniversary

Present Congregation Grew From Small Group Which Was Gathered By Missionaries From Kentucky; Visitors Take Part In Observance

The Christian church at Hanoverton celebrated Sunday 100 years of existence. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Smith and congregation of 75 members participated in an all-day celebration.

The church had its beginning a century ago when two home missionaries came from Kentucky and did the pioneer work necessary for organization. They were Rev. Seacrest and Rev. Hughes. To them goes the credit for the birth of this institution, which has meant so much to the spiritual forces of the town.

First Church of Logs The first church building was of logs, in keeping with other structures of the day. This rudely constructed edifice served the congregation for many years. After protracted war was in evidence, the members built the present structure which serves them today. It recently has been remodeled and enlarged.

MOTOR FAILURE BRINGS FLIERS BACK TO EARTH

Manager's Version Given Differently; Aloft 647 Hours

BREAK ALL MARKS FOR REFUELLING

300 Present When Craft Comes To Ground With New Record

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien were back to earth today after completing the longest sustained flight in history. Conflicting versions of what brought the sturdy monoplane, Greater St. Louis, back to ground were given by the fliers and their manager.

The pilots said they landed because of a break in the crankcase of the motor.

William Pickens, manager of Jackson and O'Brien, said they landed because of lack of financial returns.

The Greater St. Louis touched ground at Lambert-St. Louis field at 7:30:30 a. m. Salem time, yesterday after having spent 647 hours, 228 minutes and 30 seconds cruising over the field. They lacked but 3 1/2 minutes of having been aloft 27 days. Their new record exceeds that of John and Kenneth Hunter by 93 hours and 47 minutes but lacks 352 hours 31 minutes and 30 seconds of the fliers' goal of 1,000.

End Comes Suddenly

The end of the flight, the only come-back endurance flight on record, was abrupt and unexpected. Between 2 and 3 a. m. mechanics heard the first break in the smooth song of the motor.

From then on until dawn the missing kept up and at 6:15 a. m. the fliers radioed that the crankcase was broken, two cylinders were missing and oil was spraying over the ship. Before a special police detail could arrive the plane began sweeping in wide circles and at 6:39:30 the record-breaking craft touched in a perfect three-point landing.

Only about 300 persons witnessed the landing. In July, 1929, when O'Brien and Jackson landed with a new record of 420 hours, thousands were at the field. A year ago the fliers were borne like conquering heroes through streets lined with cheering admirers. Yesterday there was only an occasional cheer.

Pickens Makes Statement At the hotel where the airmen were taken, Pickens told reporters the fliers landed because "they were 'saps' not to Jackson and O'Brien did not owe St. Louis anything. There was nothing to gain by continued flying. Why spend money keeping aloft?"

"Finances had nothing to do with it," both fliers said. We would have paid for supplies to continue the flight ourselves had the motor continued to function."

Cost of the flight exclusive of investment in planes and equipment, was about $1,000 a week. The fliers earned $8,500 and have contracts to appear at state fairs which will net them $30,500, making a total of $39,000 to be divided between them with a percentage for Pickens.

In addition, they have prospects for getting more contracts. They will appear at the Missouri state fair Saturday under a $7500 contract. Other state fair appearances are scheduled in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio and Indiana state.

Upon landing O'Brien said his legs were a bit "wobbly." Jackson said he was "not very tired." Both fliers were able to hear perfectly. A physical examination showed they had experienced little change in weight.

"There's nothing to it," Jackson said. "We could do the same thing over again."

SHOTGUN HALTS RAIDING PARTY

Contractor Fires During Sabotage War; Damage Has Run High

AKRON, Aug. 18.—Shotguns roared last night in the sabotage war involving public construction contractors in Cuyahoga Falls, and today police are searching for one man believed to have been wounded when Carl Garner of the Gar-Construction company of Warren, O., fired into a crowd of 10 or more men.

For several weeks there have been sporadic outbreaks in Cuyahoga Falls by persons directing their activities against road building and other construction equipment owned by the Garner company and Frank George of Youngstown.

During this time no arrests have been made, and the damage to machinery has run into several thousands of dollars. One workman has been injured.

Garner, who was on guard over machinery in a new allotment says he was attracted by the approach of a crowd of men, who appeared to be sneaking toward the equipment he was guarding.

When he fired, Garner said, the crowd dispersed into a thicket of timber nearby, apparently assisting one man who fell at the discharge of the shotgun. Cuyahoga Falls police are unable to say what lies behind the campaign of destruction against the equipment of the construction firms, but admit it probably is prompted by labor troubles.

Queen Helen, he asserted, would be too proud, not to say religious, to be contented to lead a merely shadowy existence as queen while a rival held the affections of the king and really wielded the regal powers in the land.

According to the diplomat, Carol is temporizing on the matter of coronation and brought its postponement from Oct. 15 to next spring, because of misgivings as to how the nation and especially the army will take the news that he is planning a morganatic marriage with Mlle. Lupescu. The allegation that the postponement is dictated by economic conditions in the country is doubted, it being pointed out that the coronation is planned on the most simple scale.

DRIVING OUT THE WET PLANK

Ohio Democrats, when they meet in convention the latter part of this month, will have to decide on the construction of their state platform. The most important part of their decision will concern the inclusion of a wet plank which the nomination of Robert J. Bulkley at last Tuesday's primary introduced.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, which is supporting Mr. Bulkley's candidacy, printed an editorial in Friday's edition carrying this statement:

"People make the issues of campaign, not the politicians or the party leaders. The issues are what the people chose to talk about and the one they talk about most becomes by that fact what the platform writers describe as paramount."

In the Democratic primary campaigns in Ohio, ending Tuesday, prohibition was discussed from one end of the state to the other, with the result that an advocate of repeal won the senatorial nomination by a plurality that surprised many. Men who tried to confine the discussion to the tariff, to farm relief, to industrial depression, found themselves talking to audiences whose real interest lay elsewhere."

This reasoning leaves no doubt, apparently, about the inclusion of a wet plank in the state Democratic platform. It would have to be there because the people are talking about it, associating it with the nomination of Mr. Bulkley. Still, there is talk in Democratic circles about excluding it for the sake of the other nominees on the ticket. Evidently, there is going to be some trouble if the platform builders really believe that people make the issues, when they get down to work the last of this month.

This must be remembered, however, Mr. Bulkley received but 80,925 Democratic votes, as against 131,416 votes cast for Durbin, McSweeney, Truax and Myers, his dry opponents for the senatorial nomination. Senator McCulloch, unopposed for the Republican nomination, received 333,197 Bulkley, as votes go, is a minority candidate.

George White, dry candidate for governor, waged his campaign on state issues. Like Governor Cooper he is dry. It would hardly be expected to cloud Mr. White's cut-and-dried campaign issues with the more exciting issue of prohibition repeal.

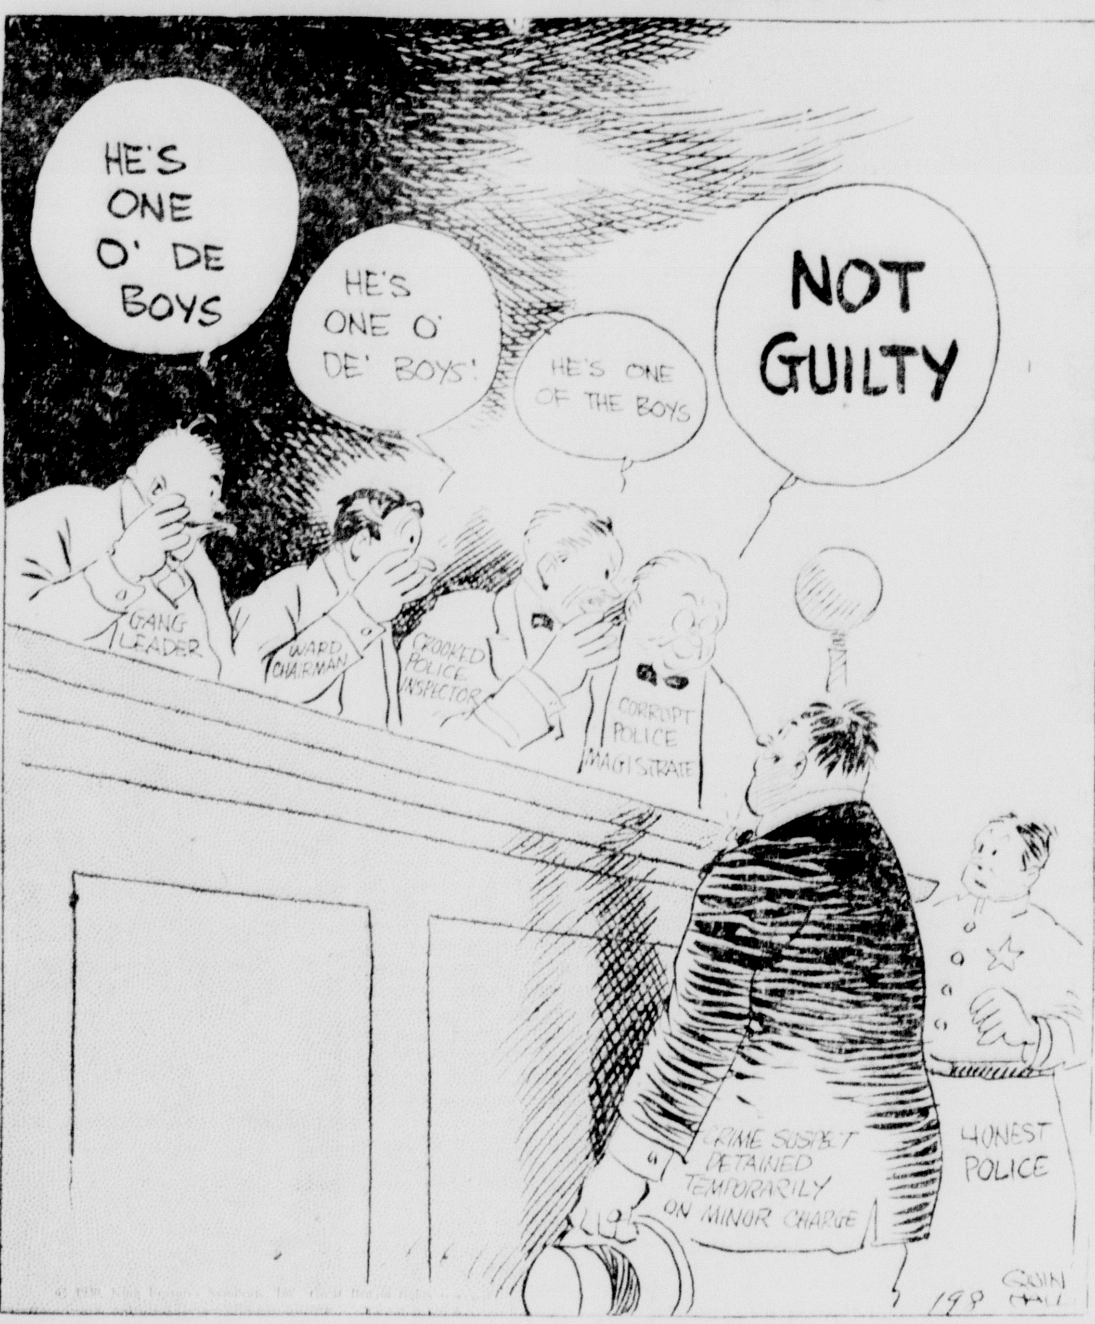

These things will have to be decided. The importance of a minority candidate for the senate will have to be weighed and compared with the importance of the party ticket. There is a possibility that the "people" who make the issues may be disappointed for once. Unfortunately they are not going to construct the Democratic party platform.

RESTORING THE BALANCE

Broadway and Hollywood, the two electrodes of the nation's theatrical battery, have behaved in a way both strange and disastrous in years past. Most recently was the exodus of talent from points east to points west, where the motion pictures exerted a tremendous pull with the talkies and well-filled money bags. It not only affected Broadway's stage doors but its front doors as well, contributing to a condition which legitimate stage producers describe fearfully as a "decline."

This week an announcement was made which indicates there may be a restoration of balance between Broadway and Hollywood. Mary Pickford, Vilma Banky and Rod La Rocque, three considerable boxoffice names in the movies, have let it be known they are dickering with a well-known Broadway producer for appearances on Broadway stages this coming winter. Rumor has named Coleen Moore and Mary Duncan as carrying on contract negotiations with the same producer.

The return to Broadway of a handful of stars is but a hint of what must happen to restore a happy balance between Broadway and Hollywood. It is not only names which Hollywood attracted, but producing talent as well. Librettists, lyric writers, composers, singers, electricians, dance producers, comics, gag men—all who contribute to the making of a stage production. Producers miss them almost as much as they miss the Ruth Chattertons, the Walter Hustons, the John and Lionel Barrymores, the Ann Hardings and the other stage headliners who deserted them.

Why are movie stars interested in returning to Broadway? The logical answer is not flattering to the movies, perhaps, but it is a boost for the "declining" stage. Merely because the movies have nothing more to give them. Those named in this week's announcements have made fame and money. They must decide whether they will continue to engage in theatrical pursuits or retire. Retirement is out of the question. The pictures can give them no greater opportunities than they have had in the past: La Rocque can only continue to be a dashing rake; Coleen Moore, a reckless, lucky, wretched girl or a society flapper. Vilma Banky's accent is an inconvenience in the talkies; Mary Pickford's reputation as a sweet, little girl hamper her. Result: They turn to the stage and the stage is only too glad to have the use of their names.

It will be extremely interesting to watch this natural, inevitable drift of theatrical talent back to Broadway. Who knows? Some day Hollywood may find itself negotiating for talent even as Broadway does now.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Get Plenty of Sun

Many of the diseases of today are the outcome of artificial ways of living. What are known as the "deficiency diseases" attack grown-ups as well as our growing children. Babies are not exempt from them. One of the most common of such ailments is rickets.

This disease appears between the sixth and the eighteenth month. It is unusual in an infant younger than this, and rarely seen in a child older than three years.

It has been said that fully one-half of the infant population of our large cities have rickets to a greater or less degree.

Too many children in the cities are deprived of sunshine and fresh air and too many lack proper nourishment.

With the great advance in the number having this disease much experimentation has gone on with in the past ten years to find out its causes. It comes primarily from lack of nourishing food. It can be cured by following the proper diet on the one hand, or it can be cured by exposure to sunlight.

Rickets is not confined to one part of the body, but it involves all the tissues. Its most striking symptom is the abnormal condition of the bones. A child who has rickets is usually anemic and is very nervous and irritable. He does not walk early because the muscles and bones are weak and the ligaments lax. He may be bow-legged or knock-kneed. Enlargement of the bones at the wrist and ankles takes place. Some deformity of the chest, such as pigeon breast and bony protuberances of the skull may be present.

McCulloch and his co-workers found in cod liver oil the factor known as Vitamin D which prevents rickets. Lack of this vitamin permits the development of rickets.

The effects of sunlight are being studied now as never before. We know that sunlight exerts a profound effect on the welfare of the body.

There is no doubt that the prevalence of rickets in America and in middle Europe is largely due to lack of sunlight. Negro and Italian children of our American cities are especially liable to contract this disease because their skin pigmentation prevents the ultra violet rays from penetrating actively.

Because of muscular weakness in this disease the abdominal walls give way, and we see the "pot-bellied" child. Flat-foot is another effect of rickets. The child eats and sleeps poorly and as a consequence he is irritable and nervous.

When a child is found to have any of the symptoms of rickets, the diet must be changed. The largest numbers of cases of rickets are found among the artificially fed babies. Few cases occur among breast-fed infants. Cod liver oil is of great value and should be given regularly. An abundance of milk is needed to provide the time required in building bone tissues. Orange juice, tomato juice and prune juice may be given. For the older children all these with spinach, cabbage and eggs should be provided.

Exposure to the direct rays of the sun is essential when sunlight is to be had. All the hospitals and clinics now furnish artificial lights which have the same effect. By proper feeding and exposure to sunlight your child may be safe from this disease. The disease is now well understood and by careful attention rickets can be helped and cured in time.

Answers to Health Queries

G. G. Q. Will you please give me some advice concerning pimples and blackheads?

A.—Pimples are often due to incorrect diet and constipation. Most essential of all is to cut down on sugar, starches and coffee. Plenty of fresh vegetables and fruits are advisable. It is wise to make sure that the teeth, tonsils and nasal sinuses are all right. Blackheads can be easily removed with proper care.

Miss R. A. Q.—What causes a snapping noise in the knees?

A.—This is probably due to cracking points, due to lack of synovial fluid. Massage the parts with warm cod-liver oil at night before retiring.

Mrs. G. J. V. Q.—My baby's tonsils are very large; do you think they should be removed?

A.—Yes, if they are causing trouble.

S. S. Q.—What do you advise for perspiring feet?

A.—Send self-addressed stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

NEW YORK
Day by Day
by O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Diary of a modern Pepsy. Came a persuasive telegram from Charles G. Norris to come to the Bohemian links near San Francisco. And my wife urged me to but I have played too much about others who frolic more accomplish greater things.

So breakfasting at a modernistic crumby table in our new chambers, the black dunes as pretty as ever I saw and at the moment wonder how I endured living in hotels so many years. Finished my stint and sat watching iron monsters on the new Waldorf cater-cornered from my window.

In the evening came upon C. N. London, the art editor, and we for a spin in a charabanc through the park, discussing art, pool and the high enthusiasm of Ray Long. Stopped at the Algonquin to pick up H. N. Swanson and, seeing Frank Case, praised his floating island but he unmoved. So home, very hungry.

Eleventh avenue broods in sullen languor during hot months—a jumble of dark warehouses. Coffee pots, soft drink and pool parlors. Sidewalks are criss-crossed with those white-chalked hieroglyphics of slum children's games. Upstairs windows are externally framed with women whose eyeballs seem lumps of mud—gazing at nothing. Capped men stand on corners in shirt-sleeved indolence. Undertakers in black ties sit in curb chairs. There is not the shrill gabble of the Ghetto, but the foment of unrest is always churning. O. Henry called it "the street that never laughs."

The most terrifying name in gangland was coined on Eleventh avenue and bestowed upon Harry Horowitz before he moved to the lower East Side to be electrocuted later in the Rosenthal murder roundup. Horowitz went from 11th avenue as Gyp, the Blood a sobriquet inspired by more romance than most underworld monikers. He was a pale, dreamy lad who liked to roam the wooded hills of Jersey a gipsying type—hence Gyp. In lighter moments, a dude—a blood. Hence: Gyp, the blood.

An inveterate cigarette-smoking novelist over night lost his nicotine taste astonishingly. For years he smoked from 30 to 40 cigarettes a day. The other week his after-dinner cigarette did not taste right. He lighted another. Same result. Next day the same and for five weeks he has not smoked—every vestige of the appetite vanishing. He gained 14 pounds and is happier than all get out.

The dernier cri in glorified door-mat graces an East 54th street café. He is roped with gold impressively and stands at attention before arriving limousines. But he does not open doors. A page boy in white duck does that. Meet me at the general uprising!

Last summer every road house cabaret had alert, slick-haired boys who suddenly jumped out of nowhere to burst in to sensless rhyming. One slapped a portable piano, another cymbals, still another a triangle, and so on, with all rolling on the floor in epileptic seizures as a finale. No person knows where it all came from and now no one seems to know or care where it has gone.

The Chrysler building expects to realize $150,000 a year from admittance fees to its observation tower on the 71st floor, and the Woolworth Tower gazing business has improved instead of slumped as a result. View hounds like to compare the two views.

I wonder why buying a hat is such an ordeal—at least for me. Today a salesman adjusted one, stood off appraising it, suddenly stepped up and tapping my forehead inquired: "Are you all right there?" I should have laughed. But I wanted to bust him in the jaw.

I suppose every man secretly expects to look like John Barrymore strolling through the paddock in a new hat, and the result does things. I walk in for one dripping sweetness and light and come out a potential Jack the Ripper.

My new hat is called "Gabriel"—name suggesting a fool. And the way I look in it I am entitled to a three-day crying jag.

What Others Say

ONLY DIPLOMACY

For all its lubricating qualities, oil is capable of causing a great deal of friction, and one of the irritation points just now is the very oil country of Iraq. This state, a British mandate since the war is about to enter the League of Nations—the modern equivalent to achieving independence. The legal and political problems involved are only normally complex, the British taking pains to assure military and diplomatic control of the strategic points.

But the economic implications of the projected change in Iraq's status are challenging, because the Mosul oil fields, in the northern part of the country, are among the richest potential supplies of petroleum in the world. As a British mandate, Iraq granted very large concessions to a syndicate of oil companies, including the Anglo-Persian, the Royal Dutch Shell, a French company and an American group headed by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

This syndicate prefers to hoard the Mosul deposits until other fields are exhausted but the ambitious new Iraq government wants money and insists on immediate drilling with corresponding royalties to the government. A potent industrial group in Great Britain is backing this counter-movement, and almost anything may come out of it. The present concession could be revoked if King Feisal holds to his contention in the negotiations now under way.

However much we may be in the habit of seeing "backward" countries treated as pawns in the game of oil diplomacy, King Feisal of Iraq has his wits about him, and undoubtedly will drive a hard bargain and show a profit when he is through. The Mesopotamians are that sort of people—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

The lake marine trade which Ohio enjoys, probably to a greater extent than any other state bordering on the Great Lakes, is equal to 25 per cent of the mile tonnage on all the railroads of the United States, and the cost of transportation by this means is only twenty-five percent of that on the best of these railroads. Carrying coal to the northwest and bringing ore down to Ohio furnaces engages a large percentage of the lake shipping tonnage. Formerly lumber and grain formed a large percentage of the shipping by the lakes to this state, but what has been lately lost in that has been more than made up for by increased movements in the others.

The year 1840 saw the start of this inland marine trade in a truly commercial way, and requests began to come in to congress for help in improving navigation conditions. The completion of the original "Soo" canal in 1855 opened up the waters of Lake Superior to this trade for the first time, and it is interesting to note that by some of the best statesmen of that time, this project was looked upon as highly chimerical. Fortunately the ideas of more practical men prevailed.

Henry Clay likened the Soo canal to a proposal to open up commerce with the moon, and it was in this connection that Procter Knott, the noted wit and orator of the south, made his famous speech in congress making fun of Duluth, "Zenith City of the Unsailed Seas," and leading it "so exactly in the center of the invisible universe that the sky seems to meet the earth at equal distances on all sides of it." But Duluth today is about all that the orator in ridicule represented it to be, the greatest port for ore, coal and grain on the system of the lakes.

The government has gone forward in improving navigation of these waters in spite of such opposition, until now it has more than a hundred millions so invested, and the demand is all the time for larger shipping facilities and deeper harbors for greater commerce. No end to the volume of trade under the existing conditions is in sight, if only the depletion of water and consequent reduction of levels by Chicago's wrongful drainage shall be prevented.

The Stars Say—

The planetary configurations ruling on this day may be read as much as activity. While there may be much activity, it may not be of a harmonizing, satisfactory or profitable nature, as the disposition will tend toward contention, strife and turbulence, as well as to gain ends by shrewd or tricky methods. There may be some good openings and some preferences in employment, but writings and papers are likely to give concern unless wisely safeguarded.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a lively and aggressive year, but one in which affairs may be complicated by impetuous and tempestuous indulgence and crafty or underhand manipulations. With restraint, deliberation, equitable dealings and precaution with all writings and papers, all may be turned into profitable and satisfactory directions, with new opportunities.

A child born on this day may be capable and skillful in many directions, but its aggressiveness, impetuosity and proneness toward craft and expediency may be the means of defeating its excellent opportunities.

Directs A&P's buying

If you hired a personal agent to buy food in the markets of the world for your own table, you would give him, first, money for the purchase and shipping costs; second, money to cover his expenses; and, third, a salary for his services. . . . You, yourself, would choose the kind of food he would buy.

That's just what you do when you trade with A & P. Of every dollar which you pay over A & P counters, 83½ cents go to food producing communities* in exchange for the food you ask for.

A & P's part is to find out what you want—by what you order in its stores—and to spend your 83½ cents as you direct. Of the rest of your dollar, 14 cents stay in your neighborhood to run A & P stores.

All you pay A & P for its services is the remaining 2½ cents.

*Another article will tell how your massed buying helps American food producers as much as it helps you—fair tit for tat.

GUSHER CAUSES GRAVE DANGERS

Oklahoma City Residence Area Produces Wild Gas, Oil Well

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18.—A well gusher in a residential section spouted a stream of oil and hissing gas today defying frantic efforts of workmen to abate the menace.

A score or more of families had quit their homes nearby as fumes settled about them. Fires or near-by drilling wells were extinguished as were other flames for blocks around.

A corps of firemen stood guard ready to fight a blaze should a spark ignite the gas and oil spray which heaved for hundreds of feet above the well. Streets leading to the gusher were closed.

An approaching electrical storm forecast by weather observers added to the anxiety of experts attempting to cope with the wild well, the C. C. Julian Number 2 Houser.

Comment: poured into the well last night was blown skyward by the tremendous gas pressure and oil company officials sought other methods of control today.

The well went wild yesterday when a break developed below the cellar as the gusher was shut in after flowing twenty-four hours. Experts expressed the belief the gas was coming from far below the surface. The master gates were opened in an effort to relieve the pressure.

Unlike the wild Mary Sudik, which sprayed oil for miles around, the Houser well was sending fuel from the cellar and the fumes hovered close to the ground, increasing the fire hazard, and menacing nearby wells.

GRANGE OPPOSES NEW INSPECTION

Plumbing Survey Rapped At Pomona Meeting On Saturday

Columbiana County Pomona grange opposes the appointment of a plumbing inspector in the rural districts of the county by the board of health.

This opposition was voiced in a resolution passed by the grange in session Saturday at Clarkson grange hall.

And in a third one the grange asked that when farm owners clear and cut weeds along the public highway that they be allowed a reasonable wage to their services.

Dr. Lester Ivins, of Columbus, educator and author and former instructor at Kent, gave an address on "Education That Meets the Needs of Life." Music for the program was furnished by the Kensington grange.

BULLET FATAL TO W. E. SWIFT

Son Of Packer Ends Own Life In Eastern Sanatorium

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Police were trying today to determine how and where William E. Swift, son of Louis P. Swift, Chicago packer, obtained the pistol with which he ended his life in a Park avenue sanatorium Saturday night. Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, deputy chief medical examiner, sought to learn whether Swift had taken narcotics or liquor.

The body was released from the chapel yesterday.

Alden Swift left Chicago to accompany and taken to a funeral home his brother's body to Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited this afternoon.

Mr. Helen Morton Bayley Swift, the widow, is in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. Hospital officials said they would make efforts to keep news of the suicide from reaching her.

Louis F. Swift is in Deauville, France.

Mrs. Swift is the former Helen Morton, daughter of Mark Morton, the Salt Magazine. She is the mother of a five-year-old son. Her first husband was Roger Bayley. Swift was 35 years old.

Detectives said Swift had been permitted to roam about the sanatorium at will and to leave it for long periods, during which he could obtain anything he wished.

Dr. Gonzales said Swift could easily have got the weapon with which he ended his life in New Jersey or by mail order.

NEW YORK—Ethel Barrymore, 48, is to make her professional stage debut in October in the same cart with her mother. She will have a negro role, Seraphine, daughter of scarlet sister Mary, who will be portrayed by Mrs. Barrymore.

POLLUTION KILLS FISH IN STREAM

Middle Fork of Little Beaver Gets Impurities From Mine; Was Stocked

LEOSON, Aug. 18.—Thousands of fish have been killed, and even water dogs have left the Middle Fork of Little Beaver creek on account of sulphur water flowing into the stream from an abandoned mine at Logtown.

Complaint has been filed with the state board of conservation, as well as the state department of health at Columbus.

For years this stream had been kept free of all substances that would kill fish, but since the heavy flow of sulphur water from the mine at Logtown has been permitted to enter the creek before being filtered, nothing can live in this stream.

Last year the fish and game division of the state department of agriculture stocked this stream twice with fish but all of these have disappeared.

THE HIGHWAY

By Sir Philip Sidney

Highway, since you my chief Parnassus be,
And that my Muse, to some ears not unsecret,
Tempers her words to trampling horses' feet
More oft than to a chamber melody,
Now blessed you bear onward blessed me
To her, where I my heart, safe-left, shall meet;
My Muse and I must of you duly greet
With thanks and wishes, wishing thankfully;
Be you still fair, honour'd by public heed;
By no encroachment wrong'd, nor time forgot;
Nor blamed for blood, nor shamed for sinful deed;
And that you know I envy you no lot
Of highest wish, I wish you so much bliss,
Hundreds of years you Stella's feet may kiss.

GUARD SLAYER GOES ON TRIAL

Canton Judge Waives His Right To Hear Case After Affidavit

CANTON, Aug. 18.—Trial of James Rempe on a first degree murder charge got under way before Common Pleas Judge E. W. Drenth here today. Selection of a jury was expected to take the rest of the day. Indications were that the first testimony on which the state will rely for a conviction will be recorded Tuesday.

Possibility of a delay in the trial proceedings was prevented last week when Judge Henry W. Harter Jr. against who, man affidavit of prejudice was filed by defense counsel, waived his right of a hearing and requested C. T. Marshall, chief justice of supreme court, to assign one of his colleagues to conduct the trial. Rempe is accused of fatally shooting Charles N. Riblet, guard for the National bank who was shot by a bullet wound inflicted in a gun battle with two bandits, one of whom was slain. Witnesses to be called in behalf of the state are expected to identify Rempe as the other highwayman who took part in the holdup and robbery, staged near the postoffice. Sixty thousand dollars taken in the holdup was recovered in Rempe's hotel room an hour after the robbery.

MARKETS

STOCKS ON DECLINE
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Stocks declined further in the early hours of trading in today's market. Short covering caused a momentary rally during the morning, but before midday most of the upturn was lost. American Telephone dropped 3 points, rallied five from the bottom and again turned downward. U. S. Steel sold off two rails and three and dipped again. Radio Corporation sold off two points and showed scant recuperative power. A weak spot was Columbia Graphophone which dropped two points to a new low close of 13. Radio Preferred B lost four points. Losses of two points or more were numerous among important shares. Trading, however, was comparatively light. Call money renewed unchanged at 2 1/2 percent.

Field arrived in England last Thursday on the Majestic, from New York. His fiancée met him at the dock.

Cooper Asks Legion Favor Disarmament

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18.—The Ohio department of the American Legion, holding its 12th annual convention here, was urged by Gov. Myers Y. Cooper last night "to lead the way to disarmament but not to a point which would leave us helpless before the attack of a hostile nation."
The governor said President Hoover's program of naval parity and disarmament is a great step toward ending war, but added that "I am not one who would reduce America to a state of helplessness. Such a program would invite the cruelty of war, which the American Legion seeks to avoid."
Earlier in the day the convention was formally opened by Dudley A. White, of Norwalk, state commander, after which a pilgrimage was made to the tomb of Col. Frederick W. Galbraith, second national commander of the legion.

Radio Owes Big Debt To Press Expert Tells Convention

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—The debt of radio broadcasting to the newspaper "is beyond all computation," Dr. Lee De Forest, pioneer inventor, told the annual convention of the institute of radio engineers which opened here today.
DeForest, what he described as "the use of broadcast for direct and blatant advertising," Dr. De Forest, delivering his address as president of the institute, stressed the part of the daily press had played in popularizing broadcasting.
"Radio's debt to the newspaper for daily program notices, program reviews and for the generous radio sections is beyond all computation. Unquestionably it was this astonishing interest on the part of the press in broadcasting during its early, struggling days, ten years ago, which alone enabled it to survive these crucial years until awakened popular interest made radio self supporting. I sincerely feel that the debt will be partially repaid only when certain forms of advertising most obviously ill-suited for radio's medium go to the printer's sheet."

Italian Quake Death List Lowers Greatly

ITALIAN, Aug. 18.—An order sheet of the Fascist party said today that the total death in the earthquake of July 23 numbered only 1,475 in contrast to the previous official total of 2,142.
The statement said the reason for the reduction was that many persons had been found who previously had not answered roll call in the stricken towns because they had fled to the hills to relatives in other villages.
It also said that a complete list of the dead with names and places of residence soon would be issued, and condemned reports published abroad at the time of the quake that the deaths ranged from 5,000 to 10,000, with millions homeless. It denied that the government had hidden the truth for purposes of promoting tourist business.

Was there ever as good a record..10 years and no wear

A Norge Rollator, the compressor or cold-making unit, has been running day and night for the equivalent of ten years' actual use. It shows no signs of wear. It runs more smoothly and 15% more efficiently than when the test started—and it was above ordinary ratings then. We believe that only another Norge could match it. The secret of its great endurance lies fundamentally in the simplicity of the Rollator—just a roller turning smoothly in a cylinder in oil. This simplicity of construction has reduced manufacturing costs materially and enabled Norge to offer complete refrigerators of outstanding quality and performance at prices which are sensationally low. You pay less. You get more. You have it longer. There should be no hesitation in your choice—for twenty years of success in building precision machinery and years of manufacturing electric refrigeration for thousands of satisfied owners—assure you satisfaction. Come in and see the new models at your earliest convenience. First cost, last cost and terms are sensationally low—unbeatable—the results of simplicity.

"Puttin' On The Ritz"

Harry Richman, Clara Bow and Joan Bennett form the featured stars in the two feature pictures starting three-day runs at the State and Grand theatres tonight. At the Grand Richman and Miss Bennett are starred in "Puttin' On The Ritz" while Miss Bow, supported by Frederic March are featured players in "True to the Navy," the Grand's attraction.

Second only to Richman and Miss Bennett, leading lady, is James Gleason, an outstanding figure in the theatrical business, who does everything there is to do about the theater except take tickets. He is the author of "Is Zat So?" and "The Shannons of Broadway." In addition to writing these plays, he starred in them as well. He writes original screen stories and dialogue, acts in pictures and does odd jobs of directing on the side.

Purnell Pratt and Eddie Kane, also prominent in the cast, are favorites of the stage and consequently old hands at the business of entertainment.

Miss Bennett, who played on the stage in "Jarnegan" with her distinguished father, Richard Bennett, plays the lead opposite Richman. It is her fifth consecutive talking picture, and in all of them she has scored outstanding successes.

Aileen Pringle and Lilyan Tashman, two of Hollywood's outstanding personalities, play prominent roles in the picture, and demonstrate that the western show center can hold its own with Broadway in providing entertainers.

"Puttin' on the Ritz," the story of which almost parallels Richman's actual career as vaudeville performer musical comedy star and night club king was written by John W. Considine, Jr., and dialogue by William K. Wells.

"True To The Navy"

Harry Green, the funny man of "Kibitzer" and "Honey," is a riot of laugh-making cracks and pantomime in "True to the Navy."

Clara, a soda-fountain girl in Harry Green's drug store, makes it a big business. All the sailors from the battleships in the harbor flock to the drug store for ice-cream sodas and a smile from Clara. She plays them all, collects the souvenirs, and says goodbye with a smile. She had a special boyfriend on every ship and manages to keep them separated until the whole fleet, and all her special drop anchor at once. She is sunk.

Then she meets Frederic March, a woman-killer gunner's mate, and marches to the altar with him over the prostrate forms of half a dozen other smitten swains.

Clara's singing voice is one of the features of "True to the Navy." She croons "There Is Only One Who Matters to Me."

Game Cock Bests Auto In Battle

LONDON, ONT., Aug. 18. — A game cock, whose master was serving three months in jail, was annoyed by the continuous passing of automobiles past his home.

The cock ruffled his feathers indignantly yesterday and flew directly at William Bailey's car. He went through the windshield, shattering it, bumped against the back of the sedan, and came to rest in the lap of one of the occupants of the back seat, unhurt.

Wilfred Bailey, 16, and his brother Freddy, aged three, were sitting with their father in the front seat. They were cut severely by flying glass. Mr. Bailey was unhurt.

The bird served as a dinner for the ruffled motorists.

Husband Kills Wife; Then Ends Own Life

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—Murder and suicide today had ended the efforts of Howard Eucher, 38, to effect a reconciliation with his estranged wife.

Police said that Eucher returned home early yesterday after a week's absence from his wife, Helen, 36, and when she rejected his offers of reconciliation, plunged a butcher knife into her heart. Eucher then drove down the street a short distance and sent the charges of both muzzies of a shotgun into his chest. Mrs. Eucher was dead when police arrived and Eucher died a short time later at a hospital.

Mrs. Minnie Braun, daughter of the dead woman by a former marriage, said Eucher had been drinking.

HOTEL WINTON

Highest average in convenience.

First choice among regular travelers for dozens of real reasons.

Many of the best things are not on Main Street. Quiet, for example.

HOTEL WINTON

Now for Something Good to Eat

YOU soon tire of a restaurant that has only seven bills of fare—one for each day of the week, and then back to the beginning again.

The two things that make a restaurant good are good food and lots of variety. Good food includes good cooking, and variety includes exploring the provision markets for the countless things that can be served, in season or out.

The pleasure of eating at any of the restaurants at Hotel Winton is increased by the wide variety of choice—a menu that is easy to read—a list of fixed price breakfasts, luncheons and dinners—a number of specials for which the house is famous, and—always—good foods properly prepared.
